

STONY PLAIN SUN

VOLUME FIVE

STONY PLAIN, ALBERTA. THURSDAY, NOV. 27, 1924

WHOLE NUMBER 226

For Electric Service!

We will maintain a Complete Electrical Service Department for your house wiring and all Accessories.

GET YOUR SKATES SHARPENED.

WE DO IT!

***

A. E. MICHAEL'S,

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE.

BRITISH YOUTHS TO STUDY FARMING

THE first party of British youths brought to Alberta under the Empire Settlement plan to study western farming conditions, reached Vermilion, over the Canadian National Railway last week. The boys are shown here on their arrival at the Canadian National station at Quebec en route to Western Canada. — C.N.R. Photos.

Calendar.

- Nov. 28—Popular Dance, Ducholke's Hall.
- Dec. 1—Muskrat season opens.
- Dec. 2—Henry Humber's sale.
- 5—Bazaar of Ladies Aid of St. Matthew's Church.
- 5—Chicken Supper at Spruce Grove given by Ladies Aid.
- 5—White Drive and Dance by Holburn U.F.W.A.
- 13—Secretary Pidgeon at Stony Plain.
- 14—Lecture in Town Hall at 2:30 p.m. by I.B.S.A.
- 18—Entertainment at Stony Plain school.
- 19—Xmas entertainment at the Wardens School.
- 22—Roosevelt School's annual entertainment.
- 22—School Entertainment at Camia.
- 23—Xmas entertainment at Spruce Grove School.

Ray's Corner

Bystander—I observe that you treat that gentleman very respectfully.

Gargantuan—Yes, he's one of our early settlers.

Bystander—Early settler? Why he's not more than forty years of age.

Gargantuan—That may be true, but he settles for his accounts on the first of every month.

A Chapter of Dances

The wedding dance Friday night last in Blueberry school house to the newly-weds Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ashmead was well attended. Good music and excellent refreshments had been provided, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. The happy couple was the recipients of numerous congratulations from their many friends.

The dance at Spruce Grove Friday night, given by Messrs. Logan and F. Loeblich, was well patronized by the young people of the district, who danced to the good music provided. Officer Smith was present during the evening and spoiled a little "tea" party being held in front of the hall.

Holburn Hall was filled Friday evening last, when the regular monthly dance was given. The music was good, and everyone had a very enjoyable time.

The dance tomorrow (Friday) evening in Stony Plain promises to be a big affair, and patrons may rest assured of a good time. Barth's orchestra has been engaged.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. Mike. Ducholke left on Sunday morning for Edson.

Young John Foerster is under the doctor's care.

Miss Lizette Sinner has gone to Hughenden, to visit friends.

Mr. J. F. Clarke has his right hand in splints, as the result of an accident with his auto.

Mrs. Wood held a class in basketry construction this week under the auspices of the Women's Institute at Edson.

The Mayor and Secretary Lundy made a business trip to the City on Monday.

Mr. W. J. McCulla arrived home from Dunnville, Ont., yesterday, where he had been to attend the funeral of his father.

Mr. Erwin Schmidt is organizing an independent curling club, and has met with great success, having secured about 35 names. Mr. Charles Schultz has donated a suitable plot on the Demonstration farm.

Messrs. R. L. Ghiselin and M. McKinlay left on Tuesday for Calgary.

Mr. B. W. Johnson, an old resident of Stony Plain now living in Edmonton, has expressed his intention of returning here in the near future.

Charles Thompson has been week for his new position as Peace River.

The local school board will open tenders on Wednesday next for operating the school van.

Inglis Councillors will sit as a Court of Revision at their next regular meeting on Dec. 5th in Stony Plain. Several appeals have already been filed with Secretary Pidgeon.

A good hockey game was played on Litzenger lake, on the 23d, between the Regulars and the Spudmen.

Rev. Mr. Whelan is having a new heating system installed at the Methodist Parsonage.

Mr. Wm. Kelly is proceeding with the erection of a warehouse at the rear of his store on Main street.

Some indignation is being expressed at the curtailed passenger and mail service between Stony and the City.

Barker Founds has been successful in forming the nucleus for a troop of the Boy Scouts. Rev. Mr. Whelan has consented to act as Scout Master.

Messrs. Foerster and Smith were witnesses in the Paterson grain check case, which opened in an Edmonton court on Monday.

Two enterprising promoters from the City were canvassing Stony this week for the project of supplying Stony with gas for domestic uses and street lighting. They report the project is meeting with an enthusiastic reception.

GET IT at HARDWICK'S.

***

Christmas Fruits.

Lemon, Orange and Citron Peel.

Good Assortment of Apples,

Oranges, Nuts, etc.

***

Get It at HARDWICK'S.

BIRTHDAY, WEDDING AND CHRISTMAS GIFTS!

Toilet Sets, Mirrors,

Manicure Sets, Clocks,

Jewel Cases, and Separate Toilet Pieces.

Latest Perfume in Beautiful Containers.

J. F. CLARKE THE REXALL STORE
STONY PLAIN, ALBERTA.

Radiola III.

[TWO-TUBE SET]

The Small Set with the Long Range.

There is no set of similar type or price that compares with the Radiola III.

A switch permits the user to change connections and get other stations farther away when nearby stations are operating.

You can at any time buy the Radiola Balanced Amplifier, and connect it to Radiola III., making a four-tube set at very reasonable price. See them at ## Oppertshauser's.

ANNUAL BAZAAR

By the Ladies Aid of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

SATURDAY, DEC. 5th, AT 1 P.M.
IN OPPERSTHAUSER'S HARDWARE STORE.

ROASTED COFFEE

For particular people—
Roasted and packed same day in airtight cans

Much Needed Reforms

The time of year approaches when, as a rule, the Legislatures of the several Provinces are called in annual session, and, within a couple of months, the Dominion Parliament will be in session. In fact, some of the Legislatures, including that of Saskatchewan, are now sitting. The time is opportune, therefore, to again press for action in regard to a matter which on previous occasions been the subject of comment in this column. We refer to the unnecessarily large membership in most of our Legislative bodies, and to the equally unnecessarily large and unwieldy sessions of the Dominion Parliament.

Canada does not require approximately one thousand Senators, Members of Parliament and M.L.A.'s to direct its Federal and Provincial legislative and administrative work, nor should it be necessary to pay quite so many millions of dollars annually to public-spirited men to direct the affairs of this Dominion as representatives of the whole people.

At the last session of the Saskatchewan Legislature a resolution was adopted in favor of a reduction in membership when the subject of a redistribution of representation again came up for consideration. The present session is the fifth of the existing Legislature and there is a strong probability it will be the last, and, as a rule, redistribution, when it is necessary, precedes dissolution. Regardless of the fact whether dissolution is impending in Saskatchewan or not, it is to be hoped that the plous resolution of a year ago will be translated into effective action now, and Saskatchewan thus lead the way in the direction of smaller legislative bodies, and a consequent welcome relief of the over-burdened taxpayer.

While it is easier to create new Provinces and new Legislatures than it is to merge two existing Provinces into one, because in the process of amalgamation so many conflicting interests have to be reconciled, the fact remains that, so far as the three Prairie Provinces and the three Maritime Provinces are concerned, each of these groups have so much in common that one Provincial Legislature in the West and one down by the sea could just as efficiently, and much more economically, legislate for and administer Provincial affairs as can the six separate bodies now in existence. Because the problems involved in amalgamation are difficult, constitutes no valid reason why their solution should not be attempted.

Reduction in the amount of indemnities paid is much easier of attainment than reduction in the number of constituencies. All that is required is the consent of the present members. Indemnities to Members of Parliament and of Legislatures were first intended, as the word itself indicates, to constitute a reasonable reimbursement for out of pocket expenses connected with the discharge of public duties attached to these positions, rather than what it has come to mean, namely, an annual salary.

Just prior to and during the late war, when the purchasing power of the dollar rapidly declined, there was a steady increase in the amount of "sessional indemnities." The war is over, and the dollar has regained some, if not all, of its former purchasing power, but indemnities still remain at the old war figure. It is time they began to decline and were brought down to a level where they more nearly approximate to actual out of pocket expenses of members both at Ottawa and the various Provincial capitals.

While holding the view that members should be indemnified for expenses incurred by reason of their public position, we much doubt the wisdom of paying what amounts to substantial salaries. It would be a mistake to make our legislative bodies a preserve for only men of means and leisure and practically bar from membership hard working men and women of small means. But a reasonable indemnity provides the necessary safeguard against any such development.

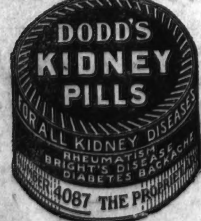

On the other hand, large indemnities have a tendency to attract men for the sake of the salary rather than to render public service to the state. It has been said that the personnel of our Parliament and Legislatures has declined coincident with the advance in the so-called indemnities. Whether this is true or not, danger lies in that direction. Not only so, but once elected it is only human for a member to seriously consider the effect his vote may have on some important and grave issue, in precipitating an election before the legal term of Parliament or Legislature has expired, and thereby possibly removing him from legislative halls and a substantial salary, not to mention other perquisites of his public position.

With elections not far distant in the Dominion arena and several of the Provinces, the powers that be would be well to make a tactical blunder with the voters at large if they proceeded to reduce both the number of members elected and the size of the indemnities to be paid. It is doubtful if many present members would care to face their constituents in opposition to such much needed reforms.

Bread Prices Increase

Canada Feeling Effect of Reduced Wheat Supplies

Canadian housewives have begun to realize the effect of reduced wheat supplies. Nineteen different cities have reported to the department of labor an increase in the cost of bread. The increase is generally one cent a loaf of twenty-four ounces, although in some cases, the increase is the second since wheat prices began to soar.

W. N. U. 2652

Tunnel Bored By Electricity

The world's longest tunnel—a bore 15 miles long through the rock of the Catskill Mountains in New York State—was made entirely by electric power.

Miller's Worm Powders work so effectively that no traces of worms can be found. The pests pass away in the stools without being perceptible. They make an entire and clean sweep of the intestines, and nothing in the shape of a worm can find lodgement there when these powders are in operation. Nothing could be more thorough or desirable than their action.

Statue of Joan of Arc

The city of Portland, Oregon, will erect a statue of Joan of Arc in a public park in honor of the French heroine that settled in that section. The statue will be a replica of the noted figure modeled by Fremiet, now standing in Paris.

May Re-establish Naval Bases

The Rome Agency states that the government is considering the re-establishment of naval bases in South American waters, also in the extreme Orient. These bases were suspended during the war.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia

Argentina Passes Good Law

"Pensions For Everybody" is idea being worked out in Argentina, which is becoming one of the world's great nations, with a population of nine millions, and with one of the world's greatest and richest cities as its capital, has passed a law to create pensions for everybody. The full details have not been arranged, but the law provides in principle for the compulsory formation of provident funds to which both employers and employed are to contribute certain sums by monthly installments. The chief object is to provide all workers with pensions after they have done thirty years' work.

Canada's Trade Abroad

New Markets Being Opened Up Continually For Our Products
Canada's sales in Oriental countries 25 years ago were less than $500,000 a year, but last year Japan took $244 worth of goods for every dollar she took then. China took $51 worth for every dollar taken in 1900. Greece is a country that bought only $2,382 of Canadian products from Canada in 1900, whereas last year she took over $6,000,000. In that year little Switzerland took but $385 worth of commodities; last year she took $1,289,000. Belgium last year took $20 worth for every dollar's worth in 1900.

As a vermicide, an excellent preparation is Mother Graves' Worm Expeller. It has saved the lives of countless children.

Thanks For The Press

Prince of Wales Says Success of Wembley Exhibition Largely Due To Publicity Given

The Prince of Wales, in his capacity of president of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, which closed recently, has forwarded a letter to the Duke of Devonshire, who was one of the chief sponsors of the big fair, requesting him to convey to the press of the Empire his sincere gratitude for the patriotic assistance they gave in the exhibition. The Prince declared that it was the encouragement of the press that the success of the fair was largely attributable.

PALE ANAEMIC GIRLS

Find New Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There must be no guesswork in the treatment of pale, anaemic girls and children. If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath after slight exertion or on going up stairs, if she has palpitation of the heart, a poor appetite, or a tendency to faint, she has anaemia—the medical name for poverty of the blood. Any delay in treatment may leave her weak and sickly for the rest of her life. Delay may even result in consumption, that most hopeless of diseases. When the blood is poor and watery give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills coupled with nourishing food and gentle out-of-door exercise. The new, life-giving blood which follows a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stimulates the nerves, increases the appetite and brings the glow of health to pale cheeks. Mrs. W. E. Armour, Havelock, Ont., says:—"My little girl got into a very poor state of health. She was weak, very much run-down, and as the doctor did not seem to do her any good, I thought I would try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking six boxes of the pills she got nice and rosy and strong again. I would recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone weak and run-down."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Belgium Favors Germany

The Belgian Government is reported to have decided to concede Germany most favored nation treatment. If the report proves true it is believed the decision will arouse resentment in France, following on the difficulties raised by Belgium in enforcing higher tariffs without having previously informed France.

Minard's Liniment Used by Physicians

Beef Cattle For Belgium

Alberta beef cattle are in demand in Europe, as evidence the shipment of over 300 head which left the Edmonton stockyards recently for Antwerp, Belgium.

Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

Insist on BAYER TABLETS OF ASPIRIN

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians 24 years for

Colds Headache
Pain Neuralgia
Toothache Lumbago
Neuritis Rheumatism

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets—Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacturing of Monocristalline Salicylic Acid (A.S.P.). While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to select the public against imitation, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their special trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Eclipse of Sun
A party of Dominion observatory officials will view the total eclipse of the sun on January 24 from the Niagara Peninsula and from points in the United States. It is learned at Ottawa.

Beef Cattle Go Abroad
Beef cattle raised in Alberta are in demand in Europe, as evidenced by the shipment of over 300 head which left the Edmonton stockyards recently for Antwerp, Belgium.

A Friend of the Family
BENSON'S GOLDEN SYRUP

Delicious in flavor and backed by real food value.
Ask your Grocer for it
THE CANADA STARCH CO. LIMITED, MONTREAL.
B-01
EDWARDSBURG SILVER GLOSS STARCH—CANADA CORN STARCH

THIS IS WHAT YOU WANT

A Brunswick

—you want a phonograph at an extremely low price possessing superb appearance, individuality, beautiful tone and which will at all times assure perfect satisfaction—Brunswick alone will answer such a description—it is "the" perfect phonograph.

FREE
By merely mailing the attached coupon to the Musical Merchandise Company Ltd., 147 Bannatyne Ave. E., Winnipeg, we will send you our latest, beautifully illustrated catalogue containing descriptions and prices of all models with absolutely no obligation to yourself. Write now and your catalogue will be delivered immediately.

The Musical Merchandise Co. Ltd.
147 Bannatyne Ave. E., Winnipeg
Gentlemen—
Without obligation to yourself send me your latest illustrated Brunswick Catalogue complete with descriptions and prices of all models.
NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

"PRINCESS" CONSOLE MODEL
This remarkably low priced "Console" in Walnut or Mahogany includes all the exclusive Brunswick features.
$135

The MUSICAL MERCHANDISE CO., LTD.
147 Bannatyne Ave. E., Winnipeg

Development Of Dairying And Increase In Production Of Creamery Butter In Canada

An outstanding feature of Canadian agriculture in the post-war period has been the development of dairying, the steadily maintained increase in the production of dairy butter, the maintenance of a consistently high quality, and the expansion of markets for the product. Whilst this greater interest in the industry has been evidenced in every part of the Dominion it is particularly noticeable and more significant in the western area, which has rapidly transformed from an importing to an exporting area, and which is largely responsible for the stimulation the Canadian dairy industry has been experiencing.

Canada's output of creamery butter in 1923 was the highest on record, amounting to 154,454,950 pounds valued at $46,894,008. This compares with a production of 152,501,900 pounds worth $53,453,132 in 1922. The increase in the quantity of production in 1923 was 10,953,050 pounds or 7 per cent, and in value $2,440,876 or 4.5 per cent. The average price per pound in 1923 in all of Canada was 24 cents compared with 35 cents in 1922. The aggregate value of the butter production has only been exceeded on one occasion, when in 1920 the average price was 57 cents.

The province of Quebec led in 1923 in butter production, accounting for 60,179,618 pounds valued at $20,741,454, followed by Ontario with a production of 47,773,180 pounds worth $19,443,505. Alberta continued to occupy third place with an output of 17,626,155 pounds worth $5,811,222. In the year Saskatchewan took the fourth place from Manitoba, having a production of 10,957,010 pounds valued at $3,632,977 against the sister province's output of 10,720,060 pounds worth $3,662,444. Nova Scotia's production was 3,550,466 pounds worth $1,353,118, that of British Columbia 2,381,192 pounds worth $1,250,485; Prince Edward Island 1,637,437 pounds worth $542,816; and New Brunswick, 1,231,471 pounds worth $466,557.

To Help Livestock Men

Move Made by High Commissioner to Reduce Cost of Transportation. Further modification of the regulations of the British Government which provided the removal of the cattle embargo are being sought through Hon. P. C. Larkin, high commissioner, who is taking up the matter with the new Baldwin ministry. What is sought is the abolition of the three-day quarantine prior to shipment and also of the requirement that a veterinary man go overseas with each shipment. Time in transit counts in the quarantine period and thus the effect is felt more in shipments from Ontario than from the west. The department objects to the cost of sending such veterinarians, 35 men now being required for a service considered unnecessary on shipments from a country which has never had the foot and mouth disease which is what is guarded against.

Like Alberta Butter

British Broker Says It is the Finest Yet Received. Writing from England in reference to shipments of Alberta butter to that market the past season, one prominent broker states: "We have had several good sized shipments from Alberta creameries this year and are pleased to say that in every case we have had entire satisfaction with this butter. The product itself has been without question the finest that we have received this year from Canada. The texture of your Alberta butter is, in their opinion (the blenders) superior."

Wheat 70 Pounds to Bushel

Wheat was delivered recently by Charles Gamble which went approximately 70 pounds to the bushel when sold at the Mitchellton Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator. The grain was plump and bright in color. Mr. Gamble farms a half section of land in mile west of Mitchellton and his ninety acres of summerfall wheat averaged thirty-seven to forty bushels to the acre.

That the Chinese had moving pictures 3,000 years ago, is said to have been proved by recent investigations.

W. N. T. 1593

Potatoes For Seed

Selecting the Tubers on Their Individual Merits.

The hill selection of potatoes for seed having proved unsatisfactory at the Invermire, British Columbia, experimental station, a trial was made of selecting the tubers on their individual merits. Three or four weeks before planting time the potatoes are brought to the light and allowed to sprout. Only tubers showing strong vigorous sprouts are selected. The superintendent of the station remarks that all varieties do not show the same sprouting tendencies of characteristics, but the grower will readily learn to distinguish the strong vigorous tubers and reject the weak ones. The average yield for four years of seventeen varieties selected in this way was 28 tons 175 pounds, which was 724 per cent. higher than the average yield of the four preceding years with the same varieties selected from the hills. Not only are the yields increased from the individual selection, but diseases are eradicated or at least held in check.

Winnipeg Teacher Wins Prize

Wrote Best Novel in Competition With Fifteen Thousand Contributors. A Winnipeg school teacher and newspaper woman, Miss Martha O'Connell, 34, was the guest of honor at a reception in New York recently, at which it was announced that her first novel, "The Passionate Flight," had won a prize of $13,500, offered jointly by Dodd Mead and Company, publishers, Fictional Review, and Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The novel deals with life among the farmers of the Canadian northwest and was unanimously the best among thirteen thousand contributors. Miss O'Connell was born in Norway, but has lived most of her life in Manitoba.

Successful Sheep Sale

Good Prices Are Obtained For Sheep At Regina.

The recent sheep sale held at Regina was one of the most successful ever held in this province, according to the provincial livestock commissioner. The top price of the sale was $102.50, paid for a Shearling Oxford ram. The average price paid for Oxford rams was $42.00 per head, $75.00 per head for Shropshires and some what similar averages for Southdowns, Leicester and Suffolks. All the animals entered were sold and the demand was greater than the supply.

Record Salmon Pack

Figures totalling by the Dominion Government Fisheries Department at Vancouver recently showed a total pack of 3,618,894 cases of salmon with a few hundred cases yet to come this season. This means that for the present year the canned salmon pack has been the largest in the history of the province, as the previous large output was in 1918, when 3,616,157 cases were packed.

Increase in Cereals

It is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics that more than 56,000,000 acres were devoted to field crops in Canada in 1924, as compared with 53,210,092 acres in 1923. Wheat occupied 22,654,658 acres, a decrease of 167,206 acres from last year. There was a 14,450,568 acres of oats sown, a slight increase over last year. The area sown in flaxseed was almost double 1923, being 1,255,244.

Grain For Pacific Coast

Modification of the restrictions on the loading of grain cars for the Pacific coast, in view of the increased elevator facilities at Vancouver, was announced as effective by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Severely five cars per day may now be loaded, instead of 30, the previous limit.

Edmonton Stockkeepers

Alberta now has more than 120 stockkeepers according to data which have been obtained by the provincial department of agriculture. No statistics have been compiled as yet on the quantity of horses produced in the province, but this will be done for 1925.

Wheat Pool Anxious About Seed Supply

Shortage Is Greatest For Oats and Other Coarse Grains.

In anticipation of the evident shortage of good seed for sowing next spring, the question of ways and means to supply the deficiency through the machinery of the pool received the serious consideration of the board of directors of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool at a meeting held in Regina recently.

As the problem is a serious one and concerns oats and other coarse grains to even a greater extent than wheat, and as the pool is not equipped to handle those grains, it was felt that the conditions warrant the re-establishment of the Dominion Seed Purchasing Commission which rendered such useful service in the years 1917 to 1922.

Export Butter To Japan

Now Being Exported In Greatly Increased Quantities Says Report.

Butter is being exported from Canada to Japan in greatly increased quantity, according to Mr. Kano, commercial secretary at the Japanese consulate at Vancouver. In 1922 a total of 7,681 pounds of butter was shipped from Canada to Japan. This year to date one Western Canadian dairy company alone has exported 200,000 pounds, while there are five other companies in the same business. In 1922 the amount of cheese imported to Japan from this country was only 85 pounds, while one company's shipments this year already are 10,000 pounds.

Canada Needs Imports

Seems to Be Necessary for Well Balanced Industrial System.

Those who are rejoicing over the marked decline in imports are bound to have a few second thoughts through the equally marked decline in customs receipts during the last seven months this has fallen off to the extent of nearly $4,000,000. The truth is that Canada must have a strong flow of imports, if she is to have a well balanced industrial system. It is also a matter of record that this country is most prosperous when it imports heavily.—Ottawa Correspondence, the Monetary Times.

Prices On Foodstuffs Advance

Some Commodities Retained At Higher Cost in October.

Retail prices in Canada were slightly higher in October than in September, seasonal declines in prices of potatoes and beef being more than offset by advances in dairy products and eggs. The cost per week of a list of 29 capital foods, for an average family of five, in terms of the average retail prices in some sixty cities, was $10.21 at the beginning of October, as compared with $10.58 for September; $10.65 for October, 1922; and $10.93 for October, 1920, which was the peak of high prices.

Soviets Collect Tax From Danes

Soviet will collect tax in U.S. on Michael Nordkin's troupe of Russian dancers when they tour the country. The tax is to be 10 per cent of the receipts, and will be quite onerous. Every time a performance is held in New York, Chicago, or elsewhere, some Soviet agent will be counting the house to see that the proper amount is turned over to his government.

A Good Suggestion

A tramp called at a farm, and the farmer offered him a job and three meals a day. The tramp asked what kind of work it would be. The farmer replied: "Digging potatoes." The tramp then disappeared himself and yawned. "Don't you think," he suggested, "you'd better get the man who planted them? He knows just where they are!"

Tide Has Turned

It has been customary in the past for eastern pulp mills to ship apple wrappers to British Columbia, but the tide has turned and tissue paper wrappers suitable for fruit covering are now being shipped from New Westminster to Montreal in fairly large quantities.

Will Illuminate Catombas

The catombas at Rouss will be illuminated during the holy year celebration next year for the benefit of the visiting pilgrims.

Additional Special Prizes To Be Awarded To Help International Show Winners

Sugar Beet Factory For Alberta

Erection Of Factory In Southern Alberta Seems To Be Assured.

Practically definite assurance was given by B. R. Smoot, general superintendent of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Co., whose headquarters are at Salt Lake City, that a large sugar beet factory would be erected at some point in Southern Alberta at an early date.

"Farmers in the south country have guaranteed us six thousand acres of beets on cultivated irrigated land," said Mr. Smoot, "which will be sufficient guarantee to warrant our building a factory at some point in Southern Alberta."

Mr. Smoot said that the proposed factory would only be the first of what would develop into a chain of refineries. "I do not think the company would figure on coming to this country to put in only one sugar factory," he said.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company was operating this year fourteen factories in the states of Utah and Idaho. The initial unit in Alberta, he said, would cost $1,500,000.

Illiteracy On the Decline

Improvement in the Educational Status of the Population.

Illiteracy is steadily declining throughout the dominion, according to information compiled by the dominion bureau of statistics. The improvement in the educational status of the population five years or over, during the last 20 years, is indicated by the decrease in the percentage of illiterates from decade to decade. In the last census for the total population five years of age and over, 2.25 per cent were reported as being unable to "read and write" as compared with 10.6 per cent in 1911 and 14.33 per cent in 1901.

Smuggling Immigrants

Claim Made That Immigrants to U.S. Are Smuggled Across Canadian Boundary.

A new industry, that of smuggling immigrants across the international boundary line into the United States, has developed as a result of stringent regulations which have been adopted by that country. Some immigrants who are desirous of entering the United States, but who feel that they cannot get in at any of the ocean ports of entry in that country, make their way to Canada in the hope of using this country as a back door to the United States.

Will Build Rust Laboratory

Building Will Be Erected in Winnipeg Next Year.

Dr. McLean and McKillop, of the Manitoba Agricultural College, who were in Ottawa in connection with the wheat rust laboratory, in Winnipeg, concluded an agreement with the agricultural department. The building will be erected next year, but meanwhile, laboratory accommodation will be provided at the college for the pathological staff to be furnished by the government.

Grain Stocking Machine

The manufacture of a recently invented grain stocking machine will be started around the first of next year by the Harry G. Kempf, Limited, Calgary. Plans are now under way for the construction of a plant, which will have a capacity production of several thousand machines per annum. The machine is designed so that it can be attached to any binder and it will take the sheaves from the binder and deposit them on the ground in stocks of from 8 to 12 sheaves.

Says Flying Restores Hair

Flying restores hair, so Lieutenant Nelson, one of the world-fight-experts, found. He started the right quite baldheaded and completed the 12,000-mile journey with a thick growth of fine hair. Most of the other flyers, however, lost some of their hair owing to the fatigues of the expedition.

Many acres of flowers are raised each year in France and Italy to supply the world's demand for perfume.

For more than a decade Canada has through its individual agriculturists been exhibiting at the International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago with results that is a national source have been exceptionally gratifying. The numerous championships secured at the show for wheat, oats and other cereal crops have perhaps constituted the most powerful factor in broadcasting to the interested world at large the high quality of Canadian farm products, the fertility of Canadian land, the beneficence of the Dominion's climate, and the profit to be found in farming with their assets.

It has long been realized that the achievement of such an honor there was no material profit for a Canadian winner. Generally, in a consideration of the various details entering into the business of exhibiting, and the flood of inquiries he received as the result of his award, he was subjected to a not inconsiderable monetary loss. In 1923, for instance, one hundred members of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association exhibited their products at Chicago, winning no less than 92 awards, including six first prizes and the world's championship for both wheat and oats. Yet this total cash value of the 92 awards amounted to only about $900. Canadian exhibitors have been actuated throughout the years mainly by a sense of true sportsmanship and the noble desire to bring agricultural renown to their country.

However, in support and appreciation of these efforts and of their true value to Canada, and to offset any danger of possibly exhibiting, refraining from entry from material consideration, the Canadian Seed Growers' Association has been instrumental in establishing a fund for additional special prizes to be awarded to Canadian winners of the foregoing and best prizes at the international show this year.

Slaughter Buffalo in Montana

National Bison Range Is Now Overstocked With Animals.

Between 200 and 300 buffalo on the Montana national bison range must be slain this fall, Frank Rose, the superintendent, announces. A census last summer showed 700 buffalo, 300 elk, 23 mountain sheep and 100 deer on the range, and the prospect of the grasses convinced the superintendent that the preserve was about 40 per cent overstocked.

The sale of buffalo to parks and zoos is not that much to bring the herd down to the recommended size, and to a large number will be slaughtered and sold on the meat market. Each fall the herd is reduced in this manner, but this year a far greater number than ever before will be butchered.

Marrying A Farm

Many Suitors In U.S. Got Land Along With Wife.

"Marrying a farm" is best done in the North Central States. Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota offer a happy hunting ground for the land-yetted aspirant, according to an official report, which says that in these states 84 per cent of the landowners married a farm. More than 6 per cent of the landowners of Texas required land by marriage, while in Kentucky and Tennessee, the report says, that out of 845 farmers interviewed 53 per cent had taken a farm along with a wife.

Norway's Merchant Fleet

The combined tonnage of the Norwegian merchant fleet is now the fifth greatest in the world and of practically the same size as before the outbreak of the World War in 1914. Older steamships wrecked during the war have been replaced with modern steam and motor ships.

R.G. Applies For Fiji Lands

The Occidental Fruit Company has shipped considerable quantities of Okanagan apples to New Zealand this year and just recently billed out a good sized order for the Fiji Islands.

The priests of Peru are said to have buried a considerable quantity of gold to preserve it from the clutches of their persecutors.

EDWARDSBURG

BRAXTON'S

COGNAC SYRUP

One of the greatest of all Energy-Producing Foods!
 Delicious for the table and for cooking.

THE CANADIAN SYRUP COMPANY, LIMITED
 MONTREAL

A Friend of the Family

NEVER FIRE FIRST

By
JAMES FRENOCH DONNANCE
 Co-Author of "Get Your Man,"
 "Glory Rides the Range," Etc.

(Serial Rights Arranged Through
 F. D. Goodchild, Publishers, Toronto)

(Continued)

Exercising the utmost caution, he worked his way eastward until he crouched opposite an exaggerated "ant hill" of activity, undoubtedly the scene of major operations. There were three sluices here, near a bench that had been shattered by a recent explosion. No crew of white miners could have shown greater industry or fewer lost motions than the natives at work there. And as below, he saw no sign of a white oppressor.

Then, from a tent near the Indian encampment, there emerged a brave man who answered the O'Malleys' description of Bonhomme, who nearly had done for Bart. Six feet two or three and built from the soles up, he stood looking over the busy scene.

In a flash, Seymour recognized the red-headed man who had insisted on sending word to the young Mounties in that Montreal cabaret. Something of a change of scene, this; but not so surprising in Canada—land of far-flung opportunities.

The sergeant surmised this to be the alleged breed's first appearance of the morning. Confirmation came with the appearance of a young squaw bearing a tray of breakfast which she spread on a rough table before the tent. Indeed, this breed must have a "way" with the Siwash, thought the sergeant, to command from them such competent service. From his reserved seat in the brush, he envied him the cup of meanness coffee and later, the clear which the autocat of the wild lighted. This was particularly tantalizing to one whose pipe must perforce remain cold.

Presently came a small Indian on horseback, all-white, puttee-clad, and on reasonable supposition, one Kluger by name. Dismounted, the man's arrival, reputed to be the "brains of the outfit," did not come to his partner's shoulder; but forthwith the man's movements, Seymour judged that his small frame concealed a dynamo of energy. The man, in a moment of ent, then started toward the sluice box.

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ontario.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, but I was not able to get on my feet until I could not do any more work and so I had to stop. I was so nervous that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a while year ago, but I was able to do some washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four boxes of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest, I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. CHARLES KASLO, 27 Forsythe Street, Chatham, Ontario.

Write to me if you are a girl or woman suffering from female troubles.

W. N. U. 1552

The fine lines of her slim young figure were swathed in rags after the fashion of the North Coast native women. Waist line was nil, her make-shift skirt seemed to drop from her shoulders. For a one-piece garment, it certainly was not a piece, and she pushed and tied together. He doubted if she could step out of it without taking it apart.

To her complexion she had done something to give it a rich copper tinge. The hands were stained and her lips had been thickened with paint lines and over her patriarch nose ran series of blue lines, a counterfeiter of the tattooing with which the Argonaut native women disfigure themselves. A finger tied up in a soiled rag added the last touch of verisimilitude.

Recovering from his first shock, Seymour reminded himself of their situation. "Didn't I make it plain yesterday that your coming here was beyond all reason?" he demanded almost petulantly.

"Not so far beyond as myself," she murmured rebelliously. "I'm here, am I not? And you'll find me more reasonable for having had my own way."

She intended following him from the first, she admitted, for that reason she had watched his descent from the top of the cliff, marking the difficulties he had overcome. After helping her father back to the mission, she had given her evening to make-up and costume, the last jump into the daybreak.

"Do you mean to say you tip-toed that ledge and made the jump into the fire?" he asked incredulously.

She shook her head, flashing him a smile. "I profited by watching you. I came all the way down by rope, bringing an extra coil, ready knotted, from the mission and tying it to the end of yours."

"But you won't be able to feel the square," he observed, again looking troubled.

"Haven't tried. They think I slipped, so see how they are faling and toged out as one of them that the whites would not suspect my visit. They seem pleased—perhaps flattered—and will keep my secret."

Seymour did not relish the situation created by her persistence. The girl's presence was a grave complication. It handicapped him just when his investigation was advancing with unexpected smoothness. But now that she was in, his duty was to get her out safely.

"And how are your Indian wards faring?" he asked, by way of gaining time to figure out the safest, most expeditious exit for her.

"They puzzle me for they have no compass," she answered. "Either conditions have changed or that impostor was sadly misled in his observations. Actually, the Indians seem to look upon Bonhomme and Kluger as benefactors. 'Hivv skookoo! Bon men,' they call the rescuers."

"B. & K. are taking the bulk of the clean-up," Seymour told her.

He entered the divy when they stripped the sluices out from this morning.

"But that doesn't seem possible," Moira protested. "I hear from two of my most trusted kiootchen that the Indians are given all the gold."

Seymour seemed not to have heard. He was crossing to the front of the wall tent where, beneath the table, he had sighted a sack exactly like the treasure-weighted one he had seen the partners carry from the creek. But if this was the same, it had been emptied.

"All the gold, I said," repeated the girl, impatient at his seeming lack of attention to her astonishing report.

"What do you make of that, Sergeant Scarlett?"

"I'll say that is right kind and unbelieveably generous of B. & K. and that a lively surprise is awaiting my friar when I get her out of jeority."

The sergeant had upturned the sack and was shaking it. A single jagged lump, evidently held in the fabric when the sack had been dumped, thudded to the ground. Both leaned over to examine it. The girl straightened first.

"More of that old frog-gold," she said, with another low, aggravating laugh.

Seymour picked up the specimen. It was of the same grayish, metallic substance as the hand-shaped piece which Moira had given him at the mission. This one, however, held no yellow offering.

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

CHAPTER XXIV.
 Tent-Told Tales

Seymour stood and stared at the young woman, marveling at her complete transformation. A right good make-up, she had called it. He could truthfully make the statement stronger. When her eyes were hidden and her voice stilled, all trace of his beloved was gone. The girl and Siwash as though she had been born on the trail of a squaw mother and had passed her babyhood strapped to a board.

The fine lines of her slim young figure were swathed in rags after the fashion of the North Coast native women. Waist line was nil, her make-shift skirt seemed to drop from her shoulders. For a one-piece garment, it certainly was not a piece, and she pushed and tied together. He doubted if she could step out of it without taking it apart.

To her complexion she had done something to give it a rich copper tinge. The hands were stained and her lips had been thickened with paint lines and over her patriarch nose ran series of blue lines, a counterfeiter of the tattooing with which the Argonaut native women disfigure themselves. A finger tied up in a soiled rag added the last touch of verisimilitude.

Recovering from his first shock, Seymour reminded himself of their situation. "Didn't I make it plain yesterday that your coming here was beyond all reason?" he demanded almost petulantly.

"Not so far beyond as myself," she murmured rebelliously. "I'm here, am I not? And you'll find me more reasonable for having had my own way."

She intended following him from the first, she admitted, for that reason she had watched his descent from the top of the cliff, marking the difficulties he had overcome. After helping her father back to the mission, she had given her evening to make-up and costume, the last jump into the daybreak.

"Do you mean to say you tip-toed that ledge and made the jump into the fire?" he asked incredulously.

She shook her head, flashing him a smile. "I profited by watching you. I came all the way down by rope, bringing an extra coil, ready knotted, from the mission and tying it to the end of yours."

"But you won't be able to feel the square," he observed, again looking troubled.

"Haven't tried. They think I slipped, so see how they are faling and toged out as one of them that the whites would not suspect my visit. They seem pleased—perhaps flattered—and will keep my secret."

Seymour did not relish the situation created by her persistence. The girl's presence was a grave complication. It handicapped him just when his investigation was advancing with unexpected smoothness. But now that she was in, his duty was to get her out safely.

"And how are your Indian wards faring?" he asked, by way of gaining time to figure out the safest, most expeditious exit for her.

"They puzzle me for they have no compass," she answered. "Either conditions have changed or that impostor was sadly misled in his observations. Actually, the Indians seem to look upon Bonhomme and Kluger as benefactors. 'Hivv skookoo! Bon men,' they call the rescuers."

"B. & K. are taking the bulk of the clean-up," Seymour told her.

He entered the divy when they stripped the sluices out from this morning.

"But that doesn't seem possible," Moira protested. "I hear from two of my most trusted kiootchen that the Indians are given all the gold."

Seymour seemed not to have heard. He was crossing to the front of the wall tent where, beneath the table, he had sighted a sack exactly like the treasure-weighted one he had seen the partners carry from the creek. But if this was the same, it had been emptied.

"All the gold, I said," repeated the girl, impatient at his seeming lack of attention to her astonishing report.

"What do you make of that, Sergeant Scarlett?"

"I'll say that is right kind and unbelieveably generous of B. & K. and that a lively surprise is awaiting my friar when I get her out of jeority."

The sergeant had upturned the sack and was shaking it. A single jagged lump, evidently held in the fabric when the sack had been dumped, thudded to the ground. Both leaned over to examine it. The girl straightened first.

"More of that old frog-gold," she said, with another low, aggravating laugh.

Seymour picked up the specimen. It was of the same grayish, metallic substance as the hand-shaped piece which Moira had given him at the mission. This one, however, held no yellow offering.

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

CHAPTER XXIV.
 Tent-Told Tales

Seymour stood and stared at the young woman, marveling at her complete transformation. A right good make-up, she had called it. He could truthfully make the statement stronger. When her eyes were hidden and her voice stilled, all trace of his beloved was gone. The girl and Siwash as though she had been born on the trail of a squaw mother and had passed her babyhood strapped to a board.

The fine lines of her slim young figure were swathed in rags after the fashion of the North Coast native women. Waist line was nil, her make-shift skirt seemed to drop from her shoulders. For a one-piece garment, it certainly was not a piece, and she pushed and tied together. He doubted if she could step out of it without taking it apart.

To her complexion she had done something to give it a rich copper tinge. The hands were stained and her lips had been thickened with paint lines and over her patriarch nose ran series of blue lines, a counterfeiter of the tattooing with which the Argonaut native women disfigure themselves. A finger tied up in a soiled rag added the last touch of verisimilitude.

Recovering from his first shock, Seymour reminded himself of their situation. "Didn't I make it plain yesterday that your coming here was beyond all reason?" he demanded almost petulantly.

"Not so far beyond as myself," she murmured rebelliously. "I'm here, am I not? And you'll find me more reasonable for having had my own way."

She intended following him from the first, she admitted, for that reason she had watched his descent from the top of the cliff, marking the difficulties he had overcome. After helping her father back to the mission, she had given her evening to make-up and costume, the last jump into the daybreak.

"Do you mean to say you tip-toed that ledge and made the jump into the fire?" he asked incredulously.

She shook her head, flashing him a smile. "I profited by watching you. I came all the way down by rope, bringing an extra coil, ready knotted, from the mission and tying it to the end of yours."

"But you won't be able to feel the square," he observed, again looking troubled.

"Haven't tried. They think I slipped, so see how they are faling and toged out as one of them that the whites would not suspect my visit. They seem pleased—perhaps flattered—and will keep my secret."

Seymour did not relish the situation created by her persistence. The girl's presence was a grave complication. It handicapped him just when his investigation was advancing with unexpected smoothness. But now that she was in, his duty was to get her out safely.

"And how are your Indian wards faring?" he asked, by way of gaining time to figure out the safest, most expeditious exit for her.

"They puzzle me for they have no compass," she answered. "Either conditions have changed or that impostor was sadly misled in his observations. Actually, the Indians seem to look upon Bonhomme and Kluger as benefactors. 'Hivv skookoo! Bon men,' they call the rescuers."

"B. & K. are taking the bulk of the clean-up," Seymour told her.

He entered the divy when they stripped the sluices out from this morning.

"But that doesn't seem possible," Moira protested. "I hear from two of my most trusted kiootchen that the Indians are given all the gold."

Seymour seemed not to have heard. He was crossing to the front of the wall tent where, beneath the table, he had sighted a sack exactly like the treasure-weighted one he had seen the partners carry from the creek. But if this was the same, it had been emptied.

"All the gold, I said," repeated the girl, impatient at his seeming lack of attention to her astonishing report.

"What do you make of that, Sergeant Scarlett?"

"I'll say that is right kind and unbelieveably generous of B. & K. and that a lively surprise is awaiting my friar when I get her out of jeority."

The sergeant had upturned the sack and was shaking it. A single jagged lump, evidently held in the fabric when the sack had been dumped, thudded to the ground. Both leaned over to examine it. The girl straightened first.

"More of that old frog-gold," she said, with another low, aggravating laugh.

Seymour picked up the specimen. It was of the same grayish, metallic substance as the hand-shaped piece which Moira had given him at the mission. This one, however, held no yellow offering.

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

Peering from behind the bushes, Seymour felt as though he were watching some well-lighted motion picture. He saw Bonhomme call a couple of Siwashe to them; but no word of their conversations reached him.

For an hour he watched them as they directed the morning clean-up of the treasure gathered on the river's cross creels of wood on the bottom of the sluice troughs—from the dirt washed to nonconformity. One departure from the regular placer practice stood out. The gleaners carried one or two sacks, the size of the other. At every rifle, contributions were made to each.

If this was a division of the yield between the managing sharpers and working owners, it seemed unnecessary clamor. Why did it need to be done on the dump in such piecemeal fashion? Both parties to the proceeding seemed satisfied, however. There was no baggling, not even discussion over the division, if such it really was.

In the end, the two whites, between them, carried the larger and heavier sack to Bonhomme's tent, while the two Indians who had made the cleaning carried off the smaller bag to one of their wickiups.

After spending several minutes within the tent, behind closed flaps, the partners came out and started down-stream. Bonhomme, walking with long strides behind the mounted Kluger, the sergeant, the supposition seemed reasonable that they were bound for a clean-up at the lower creek. He walked as if he thought he belonged to the outfit; stopped at several points to look critically at the work being done; then strode on with a nod or grunt of approval. None challenged his advance; not even a look questioned him. He entered the tent as though he had every right to do so, as, indeed, he had, although it was a right of a different sort than any who observed him might have imagined.

As the canvas flaps fell behind him, he made a rapid survey of the interior—two folding camp beds, a camp stool, a table built of empty dynamite boxes with the labels of the "Kingdom Come" brand much in evidence, and an improvised cloth horse hung with an assortment of masculine apparel. His particular interest centered on a small, round carpenter's tool chest, but which, for want of any likelier container, he took to be the camp's treasury box. With-out much hope, he stooped and tried the lid. It was locked.

In the act of kneeling to examine this, the tent was suffused in sunlight from the opening of a flap. He straightened and turned as a young squaw entered, her head bound in a bright-colored bandanna. Possibly she was the fastidious Bonhomme's chambermaid, he thought, come to make the bed. His heart was pounding.

An alarm note rang in his ears. "Kio-howyah!" she grunted, the usual Chinook greeting, but evinced no surprise at finding him in the tent. "Don't mind me," he managed to reply with a well assumed assurance, hoping she at least could understand English, even though she did not speak it.

But she spoke it, and to his utter consternation. "Right good make-up if it tools a Mountie," she said with a biting laugh that was controlled not to carry beyond the canvas. "How do you like me as a kiootch?"

"Moira!" he whispered.

"None other, Sergeant Scarlett."

INVENTORS

Before inventing your invention to anyone, send for Free "RECORD OF INVENTION." New Patent "PATENTS" as a Road to Fortune! Also free on the "RECORD OF INVENTION" Private Advice. Write TODAY.

W. IRWIN HASKETT, Bridge Bldg., 18 E. 8th St., Ottawa, Ont.

"Next door to the Canadian Patent Office"

Bed time Stories

Just before the Sandman comes to close tired little eyes in rest thousands of eager childish listeners hear charming tales of Reddy the Fox, Danny Meadow Mouse and scores of other dear friends of the evening hour. Do your children have the privilege of enjoying the delightful stories of these characters of the twilight? They'll love to hear about them on a

MARCONIPHONE

Radio Receiver. For particulars write for booklet P. E.

CONSTIPATED CHILDREN

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it positively cannot thrive. To keep the little ones well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are pleasant to take and can be given to the newborn babe with perfect safety. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LITTLE HELPS FOR THIS WEEK

There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way of escape, that ye may be able to bear it.—I. Cor. x, 13.

Be it good or ill, be it what you will, it needs must help me on my road. My rugged way to heaven, please God.—Christina G. Rossetti.

God help you to do something more than to resist your temptation. God help you to do something more than simply to come down as if you had resisted an enemy. God help you to come forth not merely strong, but stronger; not merely having kept the strength you have, but filled with a new and inspiring strength, which substitutes in these three great things which have taken possession of your soul—your consciousness that God is over you, that the power of God is in you, and that every one led into temptation is the child of God.

—Phillips Brooks.

Order Your Farm Help Now

TO BE OF SERVICE to Western Canadian farmers and help to meet their needs in securing competent farm help, the CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY will continue its farm help service during 1923 and will include in this service, as last year, the supply of women domestics and boys.

Through experience in the last two years, the Company is now in touch with a number of good farm laborers in Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Holland, Switzerland and other European countries and can promptly fill applications for farm help.

In order to help the help reach Canada in time for the spring operations, farmers requiring help must get their applications in early, to enable us to secure the help needed.

Blank application forms and full information regarding the service may be obtained from any C.P.R. agent or from any of the officials listed below. THE SERVICE IS ENTIRELY FREE OF CHARGE.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

Department of Colonization and Development.

WINNIPEG.—M. E. Thompson, Superintendent of Colonization.
 T. R. Ashton, General Agricultural Agent.
 SASKATOON.—J. J. Green, Land Agent.
 REGINA.—W. J. Kesteven, Colonization Agent.
 CALGARY.—T. O. Murphy, District Passenger Agent.
 EDMONTON.—J. A. McRae, Assistant Superintendent of Colonization.
 VANCOUVER.—H. E. Laughlin, Land Agent.
 H. C. P. Cawell, Superintendent.

J. B. DENNIS, Chief Commissioner.

Order Your Farm Help Now

TO BE OF SERVICE to Western Canadian farmers and help to meet their needs in securing competent farm help, the CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY will continue its farm help service during 1923 and will include in this service, as last year, the supply of women domestics and boys.

Through experience in the last two years, the Company is now in touch with a number of good farm laborers in Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Holland, Switzerland and other European countries and can promptly fill applications for farm help.

In order to help the help reach Canada in time for the spring operations, farmers requiring help must get their applications in early, to enable us to secure the help needed.

Blank application forms and full information regarding the service may be obtained from any C.P.R. agent or from any of the officials listed below. THE SERVICE IS ENTIRELY FREE OF CHARGE.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

Department of Colonization and Development.

WINNIPEG.—M. E. Thompson, Superintendent of Colonization.
 T. R. Ashton, General Agricultural Agent.
 SASKATOON.—J. J. Green, Land Agent.
 REGINA.—W. J. Kesteven, Colonization Agent.
 CALGARY.—T. O. Murphy, District Passenger Agent.
 EDMONTON.—J. A. McRae, Assistant Superintendent of Colonization.
 VANCOUVER.—H. E. Laughlin, Land Agent.
 H. C. P. Cawell, Superintendent.

J. B. DENNIS, Chief Commissioner.

MACDONALD'S
 MONTREAL

1/2 lb. 80¢
 also in packages 1 1/2 & 2 1/2

U. S. MAY CALL CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT

Washington.—The prevailing view in Washington is that if the League of Nations abandons its proposed disarmament conference, President Coolidge will call another conference dealing with reduction of land and naval armament. Although the White House has not announced any intention to do this since news came of the British action with regard to the Geneva protocol on security and disarmament, feeling here is that President Coolidge will be forced to act. It is felt that his earlier utterances have made it impossible for him to avoid calling such a conference.

Geneva.—Great Britain's request that the coming session of the League of Nations in Rome should not take up the question of the Geneva protocol on security and disarmament, will mean adjournment of the arm conference until 1926, with the possibility of a revision of the protocol itself at the next assembly meeting. It is deemed in official circles here. Officials, however, are careful to insist that postponement does not mean abandonment, emphasizing that it is best to proceed slowly.

Britain Is Expecting Reduction In Postage

Possible Now That Postmaster-General's Department Shows Surplus

London.—An imminent demand is being made for the restoration of penny postage in this country, and it is believed that the demand proceeds from an intelligent surmise that the postal revenue will now permit of such reduction that the postmaster-general will be quite agreeable thereto. The new postmaster-general comes into office with an encouraging balance, which leads to the hope that the return of the penny postage may come soon.

Veterans Will Ask For Wider Scope

Think Pensions Appeal Board Should Have More Latitude

Ottawa.—"We are going to ask at the coming session of parliament for the enactment of the legislation granting the right to enter appeals before the board of appeals from all decisions of the board of pension commissioners and department of soldiers' civil re-establishment," stated C. Grant McNeill, secretary of the Dominion command of the Great War Veterans' Association.

At the present time appeals lie on questions concerning the origin of the man's disability.

Study U.S. Farm Problems

Washington.—After deciding to give co-operative marketing and conditions in the cattle industry priority in their study of agricultural problems, with a view to having definite conclusions as to these ready for legislative action during the session of congress which convenes next month, the president's agricultural commission recessed after its third session, probably until January.

Bill Aimed At Chingee

Victoria, B.C.—Employment of Orientals and white girls together in the homes of British Columbia will not be allowed if a bill, notice of which was given in the legislature by Mrs. Ralph Smith, Liberal, Vancouver, passes. Mrs. Smith's move follows a vigorous agitation by Vancouver Scottish societies as a sequel to the Janet Smith murder case.

Cold In The Head

Heat Minard's and inhale often. Splendid for calarrh.

W. N. U. 1553

Wrangel Island Party Was Well Treated By Soviets

Vladivostok.—The Soviet expedition which recently visited the Russian flag on Wrangel Island returned here on the armed transport Red October. On board was Charles Wells, member of the Stefansson party, who was taken off the island with 33 Eskimos. According to Soviet officials, Wells made a written statement in the presence of a British consul, stating that he left Wrangel of his own accord and was entirely satisfied with his treatment during the voyage of the Red October to Vladivostok.

Alberta To Have Sugar Beet Factory

Southern Part of Province Good For Beet Raising

Salt Lake City.—The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company of Salt Lake, will erect a new beet sugar factory in Southern Alberta, Canada, in the near future, and the one in the Yakima Valley, Eastern Washington, will be discontinued, according to announcement by company officials here. The Yakima Valley plant is considered located in poor sugar beet producing territory, and the prospects in Alberta are declared good for beet raising. How much will be spent in construction of the Alberta factory was not made known.

South Africa Will Exhibit Next Year

Government Decides to Again Participate in British Empire Show

Capetown.—South Africa will again participate in the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley next year, an announcement to this effect having just been made by the Herizog Government. This is a reversal of the South African Government's decision of October, when it was announced it would not exhibit at Wembley in 1925.

The governments of New Zealand and Ceylon are now the only ones who have decided definitely not to repeat their exhibits at Wembley next year. So far India is apathetic on the matter.

Winter Fair Exhibits Increase

Seed Exhibit in Toronto Greatest on Continent is Claim

Toronto.—Exhibits in the dairy products and seeds at the Royal Winter Fair were so large and competition so keen the judges were unable to complete their task as quickly as usual, and results in only a few of the seed competitions were announced the first day. The seed exhibition is treble that of last year and is said to be the greatest on the American continent.

Every province is represented in dairy products which constitutes a record.

Loan For Soviet Failed

Australians Did Not Subscribe To Help Russian Government

Sydney, N.S.W.—Replying to a question in the legislative assembly of New South Wales, Hon. Charles William Oakes, colonial secretary and minister of health, stated that the attempt of the Soviet Government of Russia to raise a loan of $200,000 in Australia, has been unsuccessful. The amount subscribed to the loan reached only $200.

Spanish Officer Killed

Madrid.—A report from Morocco states that General Serrano, in command of Spanish troops fighting the Rifian tribesmen, and a lieutenant-colonel, whose name was not given, have been killed.

Famine In China

London.—One and one-half million Chinese residents of the Chi Li Province face starvation as a result of recent floods which destroyed 5,000 villages according to central dispatch from Tien Tsi.

May Enter Municipal Campaign

Victoria, B.C.—If the present plan comes to maturity the local council of women will enter two women candidates for municipal honors this year.

Bank of England Governor

MONTAGU NORMAN

who has been recommended for reelection as the governor of the Bank of England. This will make his sixth consecutive year in office, an honor never previously conferred on any banker, the usual term being two years.

Big New Freighter Launched

Latest Addition to Great Lakes Fleet Built in Canada

Midland, Ont.—The new freighter, Gleniffer, which was under construction in the Midland Shipbuilding Company's yard during the summer, has been successfully launched. The vessel is the latest addition to the fleet of the Great Lakes Transportation Company and is the second largest freighter ever built in Canada for Great Lakes service.

The vessel is 501 feet over all length on keel, 538 feet; breadth, 60 feet; depth, 32 feet. It is learned that the company will immediately lay the keel of a sister ship built along the same lines, but 26 feet longer.

Death Of Cardinal Logue

Passing of Primate of Ireland Mourned By People Of Erin

Belfast.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, is dead. There had been no intimation of the cardinal's illness, and the news of his demise caused a great shock throughout Ireland. The primate died at his residence, "Ara Coeli," in London.

Cardinal Logue celebrated his golden jubilee as a priest on December 21, 1916. He was known as the grand old man of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland. He had a tiny frame but unbounded courage of which he frequently had need during the period of strife in Ireland.

Revision Of Grain Act

Will Be Guided Largely By Royal Commission's Report

Ottawa, Ont.—Revision of the Grain Act at the next session of parliament will deal with the fundamental aspects of the measure and will be guided largely by the report of the Royal Commission inquiring into the grain trade. This report will be presented at the end of the year.

The main question to be dealt with relates to the mixing of grain and the extent to which it should be permitted.

Pulpwood Exports Less

Ottawa.—Canada's exports of wood pulp totalled $40,370,257 during the twelve months ended October compared with $47,155,325 during the twelve months ended October, 1922. Pulpwood exports in the two periods were $12,609,039 against $13,657,506, manufactured paper $28,400,527 against $31,446,279.

A Beautiful Complexion & Admiration

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clear up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. As the perfect complexion is quickly acquired by sluggish liver, biliousness, constipation, and other ailments, it is the best remedy for all these troubles. It is the best remedy for all these troubles. It is the best remedy for all these troubles.

Small Pills—Small Dose—Small Price

Discuss Trade Treaty Between Britain and Germany

London.—The negotiations between Germany and Great Britain for a commercial treaty have reached a stumbling block over the question of the 26 per cent. levy on German exports under the Reparation Recovery Act. The British Government is understood to be unwilling to cancel the levy while the Germans are demanding that it be abolished before a satisfactory treaty can be drawn up. The negotiations otherwise are proceeding so smoothly that British officials expect Germany will probably recede from her stand to the extent of agreeing to discuss the levy with the other matters connected with the proposed treaty.

Plan To Kill Sirdar

Major-General Sir Lee Stack Victim Of Assassins' Bullets

Cairo, Egypt.—Six or more gunmen, using both hand and automatic pistols, created a sensation in the streets of Cairo by attacking Major-General Sir Lee Stack, Sirdar of the Egyptian army, and in whose person is combined the biggest civil and military position in the Sudan. Three bullets hit General Stack as he was being driven in an automobile from the war ministry down the Sharia Kasr El-Aini. The spot chosen by the assassins for their attack was within a few yards of the place where, two years ago, two British subjects, Messrs. Brown and Robson, were murdered.

Claim Italians Being Watched

Mussolini's Agents Active in England Says Dr. Crepi

London.—Allegations that Italians living in England were watched by Mussolini's agents and, if they spoke against his government, incurred grave danger should they return to Italy, were made by Dr. Angelo Crepi, of London University, at a meeting of the newly-formed Italian Opposition Party's Committee. Dr. Crepi declared that Italians living abroad who opposed Mussolini were not sure of receiving their letters from Italy. Any change in their address was noted, and their public speeches were reported in Rome.

Early Court Hearing On Crow's Nest Case

Premier King Will Facilitate Appeal to Supreme Court

Ottawa.—Premier Mackenzie King, while stating that there will be no action by the government regarding the Crow's Nest case, after the hearing on December 4, indicated that an early pronouncement by the courts as well as the cabinet is most desirable. There is no doubt that if the appellant provinces in getting leave to appeal to the Supreme Court, with the case heard in December, it will be.

Farmers Better Off

Montreal.—Though the western crop has been disappointing in yield per acre and wheat production will probably fall more than two hundred million bushels below last year's total, the farmers of the west are better off, owing to the enormous increase in the price of wheat, according to the views of C. W. Peterson, editor of the Farm and Ranch Review, Calgary, who was in Montreal on his way to Europe.

Poland May Join Little Entente

Paris.—Fourparties are shortly to be opened looking to the entry of Poland into the "little entente," La Matie's Belgrade correspondent says he learns. It is probable, the dispatch adds, that representatives of Poland and the little entente governments will meet in Bucharest next month to settle the question.

Changing Name of Capital

On next New Year's Day the name of Christiania, capital of Norway, will be changed to "Oslo." There is now a suburb of Christiania called Oslo, which was founded by Harold Haardrade in 1050.

Lord Beatty Will Not Resign

London.—Lord Beatty's statement that rumors of Admiral Beatty's early resignation as First Sea Lord were unfounded.

CANADA SOON TO HAVE A MINISTER IN WASHINGTON

New York.—Canada will have a minister in Washington in the near future, Hon. George H. Graham, minister of railways, declared in replying to the toast to Canada, which was proposed by Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, at the annual dinner of the Canadian Club.

After a reference to the close relationship and interlocking interests of Canada and the United States, Mr. Graham said:

"It will not be very many months until Canada will have a representative in Washington."

In proposing the toast to Canada, Sir Esme Howard said:

"I raise my glass to drink to Canada—the first of the free partners of our Empire, to her continued prosperity and happiness and to the magnificent future which, I am sure, awaits her in years to come."

"Complete liberty to each individual dominion as to its development with hearty co-operation among them all and the Empire in matters of world policy is the only policy through which the Empire will be able to 'hold together' and exert its influence in the world," Sir Esme said.

"Canada, especially," he said, "by reason of her position as an American power, will have an exceptional position and play an exceptionally important part in the future development of the British Empire."

"It will be for her," he added, "to interpret to the rest of us the feelings and the attitude of this great American republic, with whom we not only desire but intend to live in the most cordial friendship and in peace in the future."

Cost Millions To Stamp Out Disease

Huge Sum Spent in California to Protect Cattle

Sacramento, Cal.—Through a report made public by G. H. Hecker, state director of agriculture, it was disclosed that 109,141 head of livestock, mostly cattle, with an appraised value of $1,262,614, were destroyed during the campaign that was carried on in the spring and summer by the State and Federal Governments to control the epidemic of foot and mouth disease. The property loss incidental to the campaign is placed by appraisers of the department of agriculture at $68,532, making a grand total of $1,331,146.

Travelled At High Speed

Motor Mechanic in Newfoundland Trial Gives Evidence

St. John's, Nfld.—At the trial of Leonard O. Reid, son of the late Sir W. D. Reid, who is facing a charge of manslaughter following the killing of six men last September, when his automobile ran into a crowd of people near here, it was stated that Reid's car was travelling at the rate of 50 miles an hour when the accident took place. The statement was made by a motor mechanic named Silverlock.

Picture Producer Dies

Hollywood, Cal.—Thomas H. Ince, well-known picture producer, died of heart trouble at his home in the Hollywood foothills.

Ship Live Foxes

Edmonton.—Forty-two live silver foxes were recently shipped from Vancouver to points in the United States. They are valued at $20,000.

GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is dangerous unless checked. Gin Pills will remedy all kidney troubles. Get a box to-day before it is too late.

!!

DR. R. M. OATWAY,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Residence and Office, opp. G. T. P.
Station. Phone 11.

DR. R. A. WALTON,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office over Kelly's Store. Phone 1.
Residence, 3d St. West.

DR. W. SCOTT HAMILTON
Dental Surgeon,
400 Tegler Bldg. Edmonton.
Phone 6514; House 82117.
At Stony Plain every Thursday.

A. GILLESPIE,
M.D., C.M., L.R.C.P.
Diseases of Women and Children.
FULTON GILLESPIE, M.A., M.B.,
Medicine and Surgery.
Office: 810 McLeod Block, Edmonton.
Residence: 10714 107 St. Phone 1018.
Hours: 10-12, 5-5, and by appointment.

SPRUCE GROVE MUNICIPAL DISTRICT NO. 519.
Div. 1—Geo. Campbell.
Div. 2—John Selfultz Reeve
Div. 3—Philip Schuetz.
Div. 4—L. Sinclair.
Div. 6—Dan Brox
E. Pinelbeck, Secretary-Treas.

INGA MUNICIPAL DISTRICT
No. 520.
Div. 1, Muriel McKinlay.
Div. 2, R. P. Shaw.
Div. 3, Ed Tatterall.
Div. 4, A.E. Hopkins.
Div. 5, R.C. Howatt.
Div. 6, Rheinhold Goetz.

New Butcher Shop.
Opposite the Royal Hotel,
We buy Cattle, Chickens, Butter,
Eggs and Hides.
Dealer in Fresh and Cured Meats
MRS. F. HORN.
Phone 5.

Auction Sale Bills
WELL GOT UP AND PRINTED
And Advertising,

TOO, ARE ESSENTIAL IF YOU WISH YOUR SALE TO BE A SUCCESS—PHONE FIVE-TWO

The Stony Plain Sun

Trapp's Bake Shop.
RYE AND WHITE BREAD
FRESH EVERY DAY.
Three Loaves Bread 25c.
Bakery, Confectionery,
Groceries.

PHILIP TRAPP.
DO NOT BE WITHOUT YOUR LOCAL PAPER
FOR THE PRICE ASKED—SUBSCRIBE NOW.

This Year Give
Waterman's
Ideal
Fountain Pen

J. F. CLARKE,
Stony Plain Pharmacy.

FOR SALE, 4 bull calves, purebred Aberdeen Angus, from 4 to 6 months old. Muriel McKinlay.
Phone 305. 26

FOR SALE, 50 Purebred Barred
Rock Roosters and Hens. H. O.
Terwilliger, Phone R507. 28

ESTRAY, on the SE. Qr. Section
14 Tp. 22, Rg. 1 w-5—2 black muley cows with calves; notch in bottom side of right ear. Apply
B. Leeder, Phone R306, Stony Plain P.O. 25

FOR SALE, Farm, 160 acres, near Edmonton Beach Lake. Inquire D Barker. Carvel. 24

LOST—Red Shorthorn bull, about 5 years old, no horns, no brand, about 1800 lbs. John Sinner, phone 316 Stony Plain. 24

LOST—4 Calves; 2 red with white face, 1 roan heifer, 1 red and white spotted heifer, all yearlings;
no brands, seen last August. J. A.
Jannison, Phone R211, Stony
Plain. 25

LOST—2 head black cows, Aberdeen Angus, curley, 1 branded D-7 rt. hip, 1 branded J-P bar below, left hip. S. B. Bondreau, box 136, Stony Plain P.O. 25

CHURCH NOTICES.

GLORY HILL BAPTIST CHURCH
Services Every Sunday at 11 A.M.
Sunday School after Services.

METHODIST CHURCH.
REV. W. J. WHELAN, PASTOR.
Services Every Sunday.
Sunday School at 12 M.

ST. OSWALD'S CHURCH.
(Anglican).
Notice will be given when Services are to be held.

GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH.
Rev. E. Eberhardt, Pastor.
Services Every Sunday.

GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH.
C. REPERT—PASTOR.
Services Every Sunday at 11 am
Sunday school at 10 a.m.
English services every second Sunday at 7.30 p.m.

GENERAL NOTICES.

STONY PLAIN LOCAL U.F.A.
President—W. M. Washburn.
Secretary, A. Klapper.
First Vice President—J. Zilliox.
Second Vice President—C. Becker.

STONY PLAIN AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.
President, E. C. McLaughlin.
Secretary-Treasurer—Wm. Robertson

COMET S. D. TRUSTEES.
Thos. Graden (Chairman)
John Eichenlaub,
Philip Kulak.

U. F. W. A.
DANCE!
HOLBORN HALL,
FRIDAY, DEC. 5.
GOOD MUSIC.
EVERYBODY WELCOME!

SUITS, OVERCOATS AND FURS CLEANED AND REPAIRED.
PAUL WERNER,
OPPOSITE ROYAL HOTEL

Pfeifer Restaurant,
Opposite Royal Hotel.
ALL WHITE HELP.
GOOD MEALS AT REA-SONABLE PRICES.
Mrs. Pfeifer, Prop.

DELCO-LIGHT
The complete Electric Light and Power Plant
John H. Miller, Agent.
Stony Plain Garage.

Garden of Eden—An Apple—A Canadian Ship

Above is photograph of tree designated by the British Government as "Tree of Knowledge."

An apple from the Garden of Eden arrived in Montreal this week aboard the Canadian Pacific steamship Melita. With it came the story of history repeated after six thousand years and a reprieve for sundry passengers who had been threatened with lions, trial in the admiralty courts and what not.

The apple came to Montreal with Robert J. Casey who was a passenger aboard the "Melita." Mr. Casey is a well-known member of the staff of the Chicago News and among the books of his authorship are "The Land of Haunted Castles" and "The Lost Kingdom of Bugarudy." He was on the way home from a trip through Syria to Damascus and Bagdad taken for the purpose of gathering material for another book.

Mr. Casey said that the apple was one of a pair brought from Quernah the traditional site of the Garden of Paradise at the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in Mesopotamia. It was placed in a storehouse with Babylonian bricks and other relics from the cradle of the human race and did not figure in the log of the "Melita" until the ship had been four days out of Chirbourg. Then it disappeared.

The owner complained to Commander Clews. "I regret this unfortunate incident," said the Captain. "But of course you must have read the notice on the card given you as you came aboard: The company will not be responsible for apples and other valuables unless they are deposited with the purser. As it stands at present this looks like a matter for the appellate court. But of course we shall see what can be done about it."

Three women named Eve and a man named William Adamson from British Columbia were found on the passenger list and they fell under suspicion immediately. Attempts to establish alibi were as fruitless as they had been before Noah built the ark. Adamson admitted that he was the tenant of a cabin on the same deck as that occupied by the apple and he was summoned for an interview with the captain. He was a technical prisoner when the "Melita" reached Belle Isle and might have been landed in shackles at Quebec had it not been for an unexpected denouement. A room steward, penitent but brave appeared before the officers substituting for angels with flaming swords.

"If it's an apple you're looking for I think I can find it for you," he volunteered. "It looked like just an ordinary apple and what with the way the women passengers are always wanting things there was no way of telling about it—you know how it is. I had brought a dish of fruit into that cabin the morning all the fuss started and when I was taking out the dishes some time afterward it was only natural-like that I should have made a mistake. I picked up that apple."

"And so it's lost," gasped the investigators. "That's where you're wrong," declared the steward triumphantly. "It's found. As soon as I heard of the howl I traced that apple. I followed its trail back to the pantry and thence to the cold storage room. And this morning I discovered it. One of the chiefs had been in just before me. But I was determined. I went right out after him. . . . And I found the apple. . . . It's in here. . . ."

And with a magnificent air he lifted a napkin from a large pan of apple sauce.

Another apple, later found concealed in a locked trunk, will be presented to the Field Museum of Chicago. The tree from which the fruit was picked has recently been designated as the "Tree of Knowledge" by the British Government substantiating an Arab legend of long standing. The document authenticating the claims of Quernah as the site of Eden is a record of court martial, a copy of which was brought back with the apples.

The case in point was that of Thomas Rogers, a sergeant in the British Flying Corps stationed in Iraq since the armistice. Rogers, climbing the tree to have his picture taken, broke off one of the branches and was arrested by the Arab police.

The verdict finds him "guilty of having broken a limb from the tree of knowledge in the Garden of Eden" and fixes his fine at "one month's pay," a lighter sentence than that visited upon his remote ancestor for a similar offence.

Popular Dance, Ducholke Hall, Nov. 28

Canadian National Railways

EXCURSIONS

EASTERN CANADA

December 1 to January 5, 1925

CENTRAL STATES

December 1 to January 5, 1925

PACIFIC COAST

Certain dates, Dec., Jan., Feb.

Full information on these special fares will be gladly given. We will also be pleased to assist in planning your trip and arrange all details

J. W. McCulla, Local Agent, Canadian National Railways, Stony Plain, Phone 28

To Conduct Your SALE
Get McKENNA
the AUCTIONEER
HE gets RESULTS
STONY PLAIN P.O. Phone 909

FARMERS' MEAT MARKET.
FRESH AND CURED MEATS
POULTRY IN SEASON
CASH PAID FOR HOGS CATTLE CALVES, HIDES AND POULTRY.
PHONE SEVEN
GUS ZUCHT.

Bring Your Hogs
—TO—
Meredith Bros.,
PHONE FIVE-ONE

Dress All Your CUTS & SORES WITH ANTISEPTIC

Zam-Buk

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Monignor Gregorius, ecumenical patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church, is dead.

A continuance of the British Empire Exhibition next year is now assured.

A world-wide agricultural census will be taken in 1930 by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

The government has decided that Ceylon will not participate in the British Empire exhibition at Wembley in 1925. Ceylon was represented at the exhibition this year.

A national convention for the furtherance of home rule for Scotland was held at Glasgow with seven members of the British House of Commons in attendance.

The total value of Canada's root and fodder crops including potatoes for this year is estimated by the Bureau of Statistics at $278,063,000 as against $278,652,900 last year.

Rodney C. Wood, camp chief of the Boy Scouts' Association of Canada, is leaving soon for his home in Central Africa to resume his activities on his own tobacco and cotton plantations.

Stinging Corns Drop Out In Hot Foot Bath

Corns and calluses come off under the Hot Water Treatment so quickly and painlessly that everyone should know about it. Here is what you do: Take hot foot bath, and put a few drops of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor over the tender surface, and the pain stops. You get glorious relief from Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Remember the name. Costs but little and gives big results. Sold by all druggists.

Why the Gloom?

Just why there should be the gloom found in some quarters of Canada today passes the understanding of Canadian finance, of Winnipeg, which emphasizes the fact that the only country in which the average income is greater today than it was before the war is Canada—Regina Leader.

MRS. HENRY McDONALD

This Article Will Interest Every Mother!

Toronto, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest help in motherhood of any medicine I have ever known. I am the mother of six children and I suffered greatly each time except the last one, when I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and I got along just fine, felt well and strong and had practically no suffering, and had a grand baby, that has always been very healthy. I regained my strength very quickly afterward. I was so thankful to have been advised to take this medicine, that I gave me such wonderful help." Mrs. Henry McDonald, 3 Wilmet Avenue.

Health is of vital importance to every mother. Do not neglect the most valuable asset you have. Get this Prescription of Dr. Pierce's from your neighborhood druggist, in tablet or liquid, or send 10 cents for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Laboratories in Bridgeport, Conn.

W. N. U. 1552

Large Refracting Telescope

To Cost $75,000 and Will Be Largest In World

Two famous astronomers from the Ruman Observatory, at Nikolaev on the Black Sea, have been for some time in England supervising the construction of the various sections of what will eventually be the largest refracting telescope in the world. The refractor, 42 inches in diameter is being manufactured at a famous optical glass works at Derby, while other mechanical parts are being made at St. Albans. The telescope will cost $75,000. It contains a mirror 3 1/2 inches thick, which, weighing nearly 1,000 lb. took more than a year of grinding and polishing to make. The refractor is being made specially strong for the most accurate work.

BEAUTIFY IT WITH

"DIAMOND DYES"

Perfect home dyeing and tinting is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes. Just dip in cold water to dye soft, delicate shade, or boil to dye rich, permanent colors. Each 15-cent package contains directions so simple any woman can dye, and tell your druggist whether the material you wish to color is wool or silk or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Want Duty Cut On Automobiles

Delegations Make Representations to the Government at Ottawa

Representations are being made to the government from various sources and delegations have been in the city specifically asking a reduction in the duty on motor vehicles or at least the elimination of the sales tax. The duty on both passenger cars and trucks is now 35 per cent, the excise tax being additional. Prices on the same cars made in the United States and Canada are claimed to show a marked disparity in favor of the former and in view of the extent to which such vehicles are utilized, it is desired to have this difference modified.

Canada has become a very large exporter of motor cars. It is not sought to do away with the protection but either to modify it or cut out the excise taxes so that prices in the two countries may be more similar. Any action by the government would be only at the time of the budget.

Simple and Sure—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is so simple in application that a child can understand the instructions. Used as a liniment, the only direction is to rub, and when used as a dressing to apply. The directions are so plain and unmistakable that they are readily understood by young or old.

Surgeons Operate

With Patient Awake

New Method Called "Nerve Blocking" Is Being Tried

Prediction that the majority of surgical operations in the future will be performed while the patient is conscious was made before a recent medical convention. Dr. "Blocking" the nerve group that controls the part of the body to be operated upon through the agency of a local anesthetic, it was said that pain would be eliminated without the necessity of putting the patient to sleep. Considerable research work in nerve blocking has already been done, and certain major operations have already been performed.

Your Asthma, Too. The efficacy of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is not something that is merely to be hoped for; it is to be expected. It seldom fails to bring relief, and in your own individual case it will do the same. No universal has been the success of this far-famed remedy that every one afflicted with this disease owes it to himself to try it.

The aerial at the high power station at Chelmsford, England, is 600 feet long and is carried on masts more than 400 feet high.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the House

DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS
FOR HEADACHE, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION,
KIDNEYS, LIVER, BOWELS.

Subject To Change

London Doctor Says Attempted Suicide Run in Cycles

Explaining how great was the need of an accident ward at the West London Hospital, the medical superintendent says that types of attempted suicide "seem to run in cycles." As soon as we have to admit the first case of attempted poisoning by gas we all up six available oxygen cylinders because we know more will follow. There is the poison phase, and then jumping into the river, and from windows. Monday is the usual day for suicide cases.

Will Try New Invention

Hamburg-American Steamship Co. Is

The Hamburg-American Steamship Company is so convinced of the importance of Anton Pleitner's "rotor" system, which controls vessels without crew or sails, that it has decided to build immediately ten freighters of this type of 10,000 tons each, says a Berlin dispatch to Lloyd Shipping Gazette. The company will also convert other ships to the rotor principle for freight service on the Atlantic route.

Was Troubled With Her Heart and Nerves For Years

Mrs. James Rutledge, Nappan Station, N. S. writes: "I think it my duty to tell you about what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me."

"For years I was troubled with my heart and nerves, and was so bad, at times, I would faint away and fall right down where I was sitting or standing, and after one of these attacks I would sometimes be in bed for weeks at a time and feeling that life was not worth living."

I finally started the use of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

and after using the first box I saw I was getting relief, and after using them for a short time I found that they did for me what no other remedy had ever done."

Milburn's H. & N. Pills are for sale at all druggists and dealers; put up only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Has Worn Uniform

Thirty-eight Years

Colonel of Grenadier Guards Enlisted

When Twelve Years Old

An interesting ceremony at the annual dinner of the Grenadier Guards Sergeants Club, London, was the presentation of a challenge for $228 to Col. W. G. Garton, who, at the age of 12 years, enlisted in the regiment as a drummer boy. Col. Garton, in expressing his thanks, said he was born in the regiment and for 38 years he had worn the uniform.

Use Cuticura Soap Daily

Bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse your skin and free from impurities. Then wash or simply anoint with Cuticura Ointment. Cuticura Soap is ideal for perfume as well as powdering.

Sample Soap Free by Mail. Address: Canadian Agents, The J. C. Williamson Co., Ltd., 1000 St. James St., Montreal, P. Q. Try our new Shaving Cream.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 30

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

Golden Text: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke 10:37. Lesson: Luke 10:25-37. Devotional Reading: L. John 4:7-21.

The Text Explained and Illumined. The Law of Love to God and Man, verses 25-28. "One time a scribe, an expert student and expounder of the Hebrew law, sought to test Jesus' knowledge of the law by asking him a hard question: 'What shall I do to inherit eternal life?' was his question, and by it he meant: What acts, such as fasts and prayers and sacrifices, would have special merit and would therefore be rewarded by life eternal? 'What is written in the law? How readest thou?'—thus Jesus bade the scribe answer his own question. The scribe then quoted Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind (i.e., with all thy powers), and thy neighbor as thyself. That Jesus united to two, love for God and love for one's neighbor, is surprising, but that the law did so causes one to surmise that it was brought about by some remark of Jesus which was not recorded. 'Thou has answered right; this do, and thou shalt live,' returned Jesus. 'Oh, run not into this lesson thou has taught? When life is love, 'tis life; ought else, 'tis death' (Luce 10:28). 'When it follows to love man, the parable that follows explains, but what does it mean to love God? Dr. Frederick W. Robertson says that it can mean only one thing: God is character, and to love the law is to love character. For instance, God is Purity, and to be pure is to love God. God is Love, and to love man is to love God. God is Truth, and to live a brave, true, real life, that is to love God. So Luther in one of his letters wrote: 'I have no consciousness of loving God as a Person or Power apart from his attributes. I have no experience of ecstatic emotions, but I know that I love goodness and mercy, charity and peace; that my soul longs for harmony and moral symmetry; that I would sooner wrong myself than my neighbor; and at times the sweet sense of an infinite love overwhelms me and fills me with gratitude and thanksgiving.'"

Target For Naval Guns. U.S. Dreadnought To Be Destroyed Under Disarmament Programme. With the last effort to save her from destruction disclosed by the supreme court of the district of Columbia, the super-dreadnought Washington, that was three-quarters completed, was towed from the Philadelphia navy yard by five tugboats for a point fifty miles off the Virginia Capes, where she will serve as a target in naval experiments. The ship was doomed to be destroyed as a result of the Washington conference. Her destruction, it is said, will mark completion by the United States of the disarmament programme.

Cheapest of all Oils.—Considering the qualities of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations for the relief of the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So being easily procurable and extremely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

New Style Of Plane. Claims Air Bicycle Is Made Possible By New Invention. An air bicycle which will enable man to fly with less effort than required for walking is probable as the result of the invention of a new propeller which it is to be used, combined with the aeroplane motor and can be run by manpower alone. Major, Pilarski, of Vienna, is the inventor.

His propeller is called a "wing propeller," the wings being supposed to vibrate and grip the air much more effectively than the rotating blade propeller. "The motor car," he says in a news-magazine at Vienna and shows effectiveness in water which is too shallow for regular propellers. A German company has been formed with a capital of 1,000,000 mark for production of motorboats and aeroplanes equipped with the new propellers. No matter how deep-rooted the corn may be, it must yield to Holloway's Corn Remover if used as directed. No matter how well you treat the world you will never get out of it alive.

Minard's Liniment for Colds

ROYAL YEAST CAKES
Make Wonderful Home Made Bread
Standard of Quality for over 50 Years

Hollow Log Made

Into Modern Home

Mounted On Motor Truck Has Electricity and Running Water

A hollow log 22 feet long and eight feet in diameter, divided into a combination bedroom and parlor, a kitchenette, a breakfast room and a bathroom with shower and mounted on a motor truck, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cave. It has electricity and running water.

'The Caves, living in their tree home, left Kelso, Wash., recently to see the east.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
For Sick Headaches

MONEY ORDERS. Remit by Dominion Express Money Order. If lost or stolen you get your money back.

YOU'VE TRIED THE BEST NOW BUY THE BEST

NEW CASTLE COAL
ALWAYS SUITS, NEVER SOOTS

There is a dealer handling Newcastle coal in every town in Western Canada. Look for him.

SEND FOR OUR FREE

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT AND RADIO CATALOGS

THE WILLIAMS SONS OF CANADA, LTD. 421 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg

OXO CUBES
Concentrated Strength and Goodness of BEEF

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY. THERAPION No. 1 THERAPION No. 2 THERAPION No. 3. See the Standard Catalogue. No. 1 for Blood & Rheumatism. No. 2 for Rheumatism & Gout. No. 3 for Liver & Biliary Disorders. Price in U.S. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Send 10c for trial package to Dr. Williams' Laboratories, 200 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo. U.S.A. Sole Agents: The J. C. Williamson Co., Ltd., 1000 St. James St., Montreal, P. Q.

Only Four Weeks
Till Christmas!

TIME TO PLAN YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

A Full Line of Dry Goods, Furnishings and Groceries to supply Your Xmas Wants.

J. MILLER

Stony Plain Garage.
FORD SERVICE STATION.

YOUR BATTERY

Must have attention this time of the year.
If you have no time to do it, we have.
We are equipped to give you real service and repairs.
Let us help you make your Battery last longer.

INSPECTION FREE OF CHARGE.
EXIDE SERVICE STATION.

John H. Miller. Phone 38.

SERVICE GARAGE

Agents for the Chevrolet.

The Lowest Priced Full Equipped Car
in the World.

And the Lowest in Cost of Up-keep.

Investigate Chevrolet Prices and Performance Before You Buy a Car.

Summerfield & Schultz.

PHONE 40.

Get It at KELLY'S.

Full Line of Fresh Groceries at Reasonable Prices.

Mackinaw Fleece-lined Underwear
for Men and Boys; all sizes.

Agent for the United Creameries.

ROYAL HOTEL, Stony Plain.

PHILIP MILLER, PROPRIETOR
TELEPHONE EIGHTEEN.

FIRST CLASS ACCOMMODATION FOR TRAVEL-ERS. EUROPEAN PLAN.
RESTAURANT IN CONNECTION.

Stony Plain and District.

How many shopping days to Christmas—23.

Inspector J S Fife was in Stony on Tuesday.

Inspector J Fletcher of the Dept. of Neglected Children, made a business trip to Golden Spike on Tuesday.

Rev R Shippowski of Edmonton preached the sermon at the service held in the local Lutheran Church on Sunday afternoon.

Butcher Horn is arranging to ship a car of poultry next Monday, Dec. 1.

Today is Thanksgiving Day across the line, and parties with long-range receiving sets should get some good entertainment in the evening.

There will be a lecture in the Town Hall on the afternoon of Sunday Dec. 14th, under the auspices of the International Bible Students Association. Mr M P Bogart will be the lecturer.

Invitations have been issued by Mr and Mrs Jacob Schuetz for the marriage of their daughter Mary Teresa to Valentine Schultz, at their home, on Thursday, November 27th.

Quite a large number were present Tuesday afternoon at St. Matthew's Church, to witness the double wedding which was celebrated by the pastor, Rev E Eberhardt.
Miss Elizabeth Schuetz, the daughter of Mr and Mrs Ph Schuetz, was led to the altar
by Mr W Albert Ries; and Miss Katherine Goetz was married to Mr John Schuetz.
A reception at the Schuetz family residence followed the celebration at the church.

On Tuesday evening a band of youths from the district gave the Newly-weds a very hearty charivari accompanied by the usual "music," and the captain's interview with the two bridegrooms had a very happy ending.

The Christmas entertainment at Warden school will be held on Friday Dec. 19.
Preparations are already being made for this annual event, and the usual good time may be expected.

Reeve John Schultz and Secretary R E Pichluck are the delegates from Spruce Grove M D, at the convention in Calgary this week.

Jas Couch, who has been a resident farmer of Winterburn District for the past 26 years, will shortly move to Lavoy district where he has purchased about 500 acres of land.
Mr. Couch has been a councillor for the Spruce Grove
M D for a number of years, and will resign at the end of his term.

Duffield, U. F. A. shipped four cars of stock to Edmonton last week.

Trappers' licences can now be had at The Sun Office.

Now Is the Time!

To Fix Up your House before the cold weather comes in.
Get our prices on Furnaces,
Hot-water Heating, Plumb-ing. Our motto: Up-to-date Jobs.

Anderson & Schmidt,
PHONE SIX.

Before the Beak

At the local Court on Saturday the case of T Jensen alias T J Navestad, charged with passing a worthless check on a local merchant, was given a hearing. After the evidence had been taken, accused was committed for trial and taken back to Edmonton by Officer Smith. At the afternoon session Mr Dan Rush of Spruce Grove was fined $10 and costs for "driving a motor vehicle recklessly and at an unreasonable rate of speed." This was the outcome of the accident which happened east of town Friday November 14, when a horse and cutter were run into by an auto.

Fire at Mewassin

The Police last week made an investigation into the recent fire on the H H Aikens west quarter-section at Mewassin. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, and a suspected farm hand working nearby was examined, but was able to produce a fairly good alibi. The fire is now thought to have been the work of camping hunters, who were noticed rushing away in their car when neighbors attracted by the blaze were hurrying to the scene. The building was valued at $500.

Printing Press & Steam Engine

The Literary Society at the High School held a meeting
Friday last, when a debate was put on, the subject being
"Which was the most beneficial to mankind—the invention of the steam engine or the printing press?" The steam engine argument was upheld by Messrs G Lory and H Witherspoon, while the opposite side had as exponents Glen Carmichael and Clarence Anderson. At the close the judges, Messrs Robbins and Kiddlewhite, decided the printing press had won by 75 points to 71.

Railway Time Table.

Grand Trunk Railway.
Going east, 2.40 p.m.—Monday,
Wed., Friday.

5.43 a.m. every morning, stops on flag only.

Going west, 1.30 p.m.—Prince Rupert Express, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

2.47 a.m. every day, Vancouver
Express; stops on flag only.

The Market Report

| WHEAT.         |     |
|----------------|-----|
| No. 1 Northern | 140 |
| No. 2          | 137 |
| No. 3          | 132 |
| No. 4          | 126 |
| OATS.          |     |
| 2 C. W.        | 43  |
| 2 C. W.        | 41  |
| Extra 1 Feed   | 40  |
| No. 1 Feed     | 37  |
| No. 2 Feed     | 33  |
| BEEF.          |     |
| No. 3          | 62  |
| No. 4          | 60  |
| Feed           | 54  |
| Reckoned       | 49  |
| LAMB.          |     |
| No. 2          | 81  |

INGA M. D. NO. 520.

The Secretary-Treasurer will be in Stony Plain on Saturday, December 13th, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the purpose of collecting taxes.

E. H. PIDGEON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Here and There

A contract has been let in Alberta for the erection of fifty cottages for Hebrideans who are coming in the spring, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, between Edmonton and Red Deer, and on the Hardisty line, as far east as Strome.

The dances, customs and folklore of Old Quebec are still alive and show no signs of decline. Thousands of persons recently witnessed a performance of these at the Monument National, Montreal, and joined heartily in the well-known choruses which have made the picturesque aspect of Quebec world-famous.

The pierdriver Tarzan is rapidly nearing completion at the B.C.
Marine, Vancouver, B.C., and will be ready for launching soon. This pierdriver will be the largest in the world. It is being built for the Sydney Jenkins Company for use in the construction of the new pier
B-C for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Erected at the cost of $200,000,
one of the handsome marine terminals of the Canadian Pacific Railway was recently completed at Victoria, B.C. The terminal houses the general offices of the British Columbia Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific. The main building is 122 feet long, 84 feet wide and three storeys high, with a fourth storey erected centrally over the structure.

Russia will never again rival Canada as a wheat-exporter, according to L. W. Lyde, Professor of Geography at London (England)
University. He believes that grain growing in future lies with the Canadian farmer. Russia cannot properly supply its own needs. Pre-war export of wheat was purely artificial, drawn not from a natural surplus, but from the needs of a very poor and ignorant peasantry.

A twenty per cent increase in the business over the Dominion Atlantic Railway, serving Nova Scotia, was the approximate summary of the summer's travel recently given by F. G. J. Gosses, General Traffic Agent of the line. This is attributable to the growing appreciation of the beauties of the Annapolis Valley and the charm of the Evangeline county among tourists everywhere.

An extensive programme is being prepared in connection with the winter sports activities of the Chateau Frontenac, the Canadian Pacific Railway's famous hotel at Quebec. E. Des Baulais, newly appointed sports director for the hotel, is planning the formation of the Frontenac Winter Club and the holding of competitions in curling, ski-ing, ski-joring, skating and other pastimes of the season.

Surprise packets in the shape of cattle containing two lions, a male and a full grown female, constituted the most interesting shipment handled by the Montreal and Toronto offices of the Dominion Express Co. this year. The animals, exchanged for specimens of Canadian deer, recently arrived from Dublin and were dispatched over Canadian Pacific lines to their destination, the zoological gardens at Toronto. Needless to say, they were carefully handled.

THE SUN

PRINTERY:

LETTERHEADS

NOTEHEADS

ENVELOPES

INVITATIONS

SHIPPING TAGS

BILLHEADS

BUSINESS CARDS

CIRCULARS

POSTERS

DODGERS

MENUS

SHOW CARDS